

Labour Force Education Levels

Over the past 15 years the number of people in the labour force with education beyond high school has increased steadily, while the number with less than high school has steadily declined.

Source: Canada Labour Force Surveys.